DADS AND LADS TO PLAY HOCKEY GAME

Don't miss the fun at the Blairmore arena Friday night, April 5th. There'll be lots of it. The Dads are going to show the lads a thing or two on the ice, when they tangle in both hockey and broom ball, and "tangle" is the word. Skirts will be flying, the latest spring styles in hats will be worn by these young fellows with the slyph-like forms. No doubt there will be fights galore, as the boys endeavor to even up accounts, and they won't need razor-straps, either. It is understood that the police will be in force to keep both the players and the spectators in order, and there should be an ambulance brigade on hand to administer first aid to the injured.

The game will start at 8 o'clock. You will need to be there early to get a good seat.

U.M.W. OF A. CHARTER DIST. 18, IS SUSPENDED

Suspension of the charter of District 18 of the United Mine Workers of America, embracing all mine locals in Alberta, was announced Thursday last by International President J. L. Lewis, effective April 1st.

In a communication to all branches, he stated he had appointed Robert Livett and Angus Morrison as international officers in charge of the district affairs until the ban was lifted.

Reason for the drastic action, at a time when miners and operators were negotiating a new wage scale agreement, was given as "in the interests of the members." Union officials claim the real reason for Lewis' move is the rise of a strong rank and file movement within the district. At recent district elections, this movement threatened to oust President Livett and Secretary-Treasurer Morrison.

About 1500 miners in the Edmonton area and between 4000 and 5000 in the Drumheller district were affected. It is said recent activity among miners had led to the possibility of the International union general, J. L. Lewis, losing control of the situation in Alberta.

Some weeks ago, "General" Lewis sent a personal representative, Frank Hays, to Alberta to investigate the situation.

Strong opposition to the International Union has arisen in recent times from the National Union of Miners, believed to be a Communist organization.

DEATH OF MRS. D. B. SHAW

The following is clipped from the March 21st issue of the Wolfville, N. S., Acadian:

The passing of Mrs. Clara Shaw, relict of the late David Brainard Shaw, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of the country, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles MacKenzie, at Port Williams this morning.

Although she had reached the ripe age of eighty-four years and eleven months, she retained to a wonderful degree her mental and physical powers, and continued until the end to take an interest in all that transpired about her.

Mrs. Shaw was formerly Miss Clara Webster, of Centerville. For many years after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw resided at Wolfville, and later at Greenhill. She is survived by four daughters and three sons, Jessie, Mrs. A. J. Champin, of Melrose, Mass.; Ethel, Mrs. W. A. Vaughn, of Blairmore, Alberta; Margaret, Mrs. A. K. Green, of Falmouth, Mass.; Gladys, Mrs. Charles MacKenzie, Port Williams; John, of Foxboro, Mass.; William, of Norwood, Mass., and Claud, of Calgary, Alberta.

The funeral would be held Friday afternoon with interment in Willow Bank cemetery, Wolfville.

ONLY BRITISH SUBJECTS TO VOTE

With party lines broken in all sections of the house, with the exception of the Conservatives, the Alberta legislature in committee of the whole on Monday night adopted an amendment which bars aliens from voting in town or village elections for the offices of mayor or councillor. Hugh G. Farthing moved the amendment, which applies to the town and village, and under consideration at the time, and means that only British subjects can vote at such elections. Speaking to the amendment, Hon. Perren Baker declared that conditions were developing in this country that were not right. He doubted that if any of us went to a foreign country and bought a home, that we would be given the right to run the country without becoming citizens.

"NEW SOCIAL ORDER" SUBJECT U.C. SPEAKER

In the new community hall, on Thursday, April 11th, at 7.30 p.m., under the auspices of the United church of Canada, Rev. Hugh Dobson, Associate Secretary of the Evangelism and Social Service Department, will speak on "The Christianizing of the Social Order." Following the address the meeting will be thrown open for questions. Dr. Dobson is an authority on this matter and is an interesting speaker.

It will be of interest to the people of the Crows' Nest Pass to learn at first-hand the attitude of the United church on matters which so vitally concern the lives of men and women. No matter what your own position, if you are a thinking citizen you will want to hear Dr. Dobson. The various organizations interested in labor and social questions have been invited to attend. The people of the congregations of the churches in the Pass should be out to hear Dr. Dobson. As we face the world situation, it is not good enough that a man should be against a point of view which he does not agree; it is essential that he should have positive convictions, and some plan of a way out.

A collection will be taken up, which will only be needed to defray the local expense involved.

Dr. Dobson will address meetings also in Coleman and in Hillcrest.

JUBILEE CANCER FUND

Boy Scouts in uniform will canvass in this district on Saturday next, or the Saturday following, for the King George V. Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund for Canada, according to word received from the provincial headquarters at Calgary.

The Scouts are not collecting funds. Those wishing to assist this worthy work, will enclose their contribution, seal and mail the envelope. No stamps are required. They will then receive a personal acknowledgment from Lady Beesborough from Ottawa.

The Toronto Conservatory of Music announces that the Midsummer Local Examinations for 1935 will be held throughout Canada in June and July next. Applications and fees from candidates west of Sault Ste. Marie should reach the Conservatory not later than May 1, 1935.

Mr. Smith, proprietor of the Cosmopolitan hotel, this week received word of the serious illness of both his mother and father in Ontario. The aged couple have passed the ninety-year mark.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now returns to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along while Stone and Edith are riding fence, and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions their dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal with remarks that make Dustin furious. He insults Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and also that Duro Stone has seen the Broken Spur men rustling Carr's cattle. He sets out with Dad Kane to learn the location of his gold discovery. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shoots Kane. He fires the shooting on Peyotl Gregg, a drug addict, who, stupefied by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether he was guilty or not. They bury Kane and then return to the Broken Spur ranch.

Meanwhile at the Hour-Glass, Carr, Crewe and Stone speculate as to the meaning of entries in the notebook belonging to Dad Kane. Stone has found. Stone thinks of a possible solution, and, accompanied by Edith Carr, rides out to Red Water to test out his theory, which proves correct, and they find the rich gold deposit mentioned in the prospectors' book.

As they return to the ranch, they meet Dustin leaving the house, who, purposely, but unsuccessfully tries to ride down Stone.

Sam Dustin, the day before Gerald Keene's arrival, is cunningly suggests to Peyotl Gregg that Keene or Kane was a relative of the old prospector, and was seeking information as to the old man's whereabouts. If Peyotl wanted to live, and prevent finding out about the murder, Gregg should shoot Keene when he arrived.

(Now Go On With The Story)

Already elated by the drinks he had had at the dinner and by the arrival of his young partner, Carr was ablaze. His face was flushed and his voice cheery as he headed for the bar. Behind him Frank Crewe kept close. He hated nights like this and he waited only the first chance to get old Joe back to the Hour-glass.

At a word Carr turned on him. "Oh, shut up, Frank. I've not been in town for a year. This is my right to howl. Here Stone."

He grabbed Duro by an elbow. "You and Keene are the boys for my money. You've come just in time. Keene. We'll go into closed session to-morrow and show the Broken Spur a thing or two. Come up, Keene, and take your liquor."

Peyotl's eyes focused on the slender figure that stood by old Joe's side. So that was the man who meant to hang him! His eyes lit redly! He licked his lips with a dry tongue and stared across the room. The door slapped open and Sam Dustin slouched to the bar. If his quick glance took in that back door, if he saw the dark figure of Peyotl huddled in the shadows, no one knew.

"I reckon we can do better at the hotel, Mr. Carr..." Peyotl saw the newly arrived Gerald Keene touch the old ranchman's arm and he caught the sharp reply.

"Better'n what? This liquor's good enough. I'm tired of talkin'. Seems like I've been talkin' all my life. You're all right, son. Any nephew of old Peter Vinton's bound to be all right. Not like these lousy Broken Spur heel-taps. They've been lootin' half an' hide off the Hour-glass for five years now."

He swept on in a mad speech. There were Broken Spur men in that crowd and at a motion from Dustin they swept aside into a group, dark-faced and angry; ready to start a fight at a moment's notice. Peyotl sensed the tenseness. Suddenly Carr swung away from the bar and with Gerald Keene at his elbow headed for the roulette table.

"G! me a stack of chips..." No watch... Blues an' reds... Now let's play Cripple Creek.

One three five, seven an' eleven. "A dozen men."

Twice he repeated his plays and each time the reluctant cashier thrust his winnings across the table. Suddenly the big electric light over the table flickered and died and a voice shrilled out:

"Somebody's changin' his luck. A nigger passed the power-house. Keep your hands on your winnin's, you wall-eyed fools..."

The big light blinked once and went out again in a blackness that tasted of smoke and dirt and sweat.

"Somebody see what the hell ails that wire. Look to the fuse-box!"

Peyotl heard the front door slam. This was the one moment that might never come again. It was the opportunity he had hoped for!

He wriggled like an eel inside that door and headed straight for the roulette table where had been Gerald Keene standing by the elbow of old Joe Carr. He knew that room as he knew his own stall and at six feet a man cannot miss even with a two-and-a-half-inch derringer.

The darkness hung like a curtain. Men pawed about the floor waiting for light but before that light could come there was a short, barking report, a curious metallic smack like a fire-cracker exploding in a can, but there were no sparks to break the darkness.

Then suddenly the room was flooded with white light that blinded every eye and men blinked at each other dazed and staring.

"God God! Look there..." A man shrieked out in terror.

Gerald Keene lay across the roulette table with blood running over the green cloth and his fingers convulsively clutching at the wheel.

"But the door!" shouted a voice from the rear. "A man's been shot."

That was no new thing in the Silver Dollar but the doors shut as if by magic. Stone thrust the milling crowd aside and was in turn forced back by Crewe.

"Let me have him..." Stone laid the limp figure on the table. "For God's sake some one get a doctor. The man's been shot..."

"Who is he? Where'd he come from? Who's he? A dozen voices asked the questions as though the answers could make any difference."

"It's Gerald Keene, half-owner of the Hour-glass," said Crewe. "He only got to town this evening..."

"Keep that door shut till the Sheriff gets here," said a sharp voice. "This is a matter for the law."

"This is a matter for the law!" "Dustin strode forward. His hat was awry; his coat half-off and his face was red. Anger was plain. Crewe took one look at him, but Joe Carr was first.

"By God," he said. "It's a new card to find Broken Spur men on the side of law an' decency. But the man's right..."

"Hold everybody..." Big Jim Garvey, the Sheriff, stepped into the room, slammed the heavy front door and locked it. "This calls for a show-down," he said. "Who fired that shot?"

No one answered him. The light smoke filled up through the lamp and the bartender hammered at the closed door. He had gone at once for Doctor Epps, the "vet," the only doctor Seco boasted who would be sober at that hour. Garvey opened the door and Epps, the doctor, pitched into the room. Logan, the bartender thrust him toward the roulette table where the wounded man lay with his head on Stone's arm.

"How bad's he hurt, Doc?" Logan retrieved from the bar his only specific for gun-shot wounds...

"A bottle of whiskey and hold it to the victim's lips while Epps made a hasty examination."

"Just about the liver," he said finally. "Looks mighty bad to me."

"Good God! D'you think he'll die?" demanded Crewe.

"Huh. We'll all die. Some'll go before the rest. That's all I can promise right now. Logan, let me have that bottle..."

He was poking and prying in the clothing of the wounded man. "Here's what hurt him. The bullet went clear through his liver..."

"It's a Derringer bullet," he said. "I'll bet there hasn't been one of these fired since the Civil War. The question is..."

"Who fired it?" Stone thrust forward impatiently. "Sheriff," he said sharply; "for Heaven's sake get some action!"

"That brought Garvey back to the present."

"Lay your guns on the bar," he said. "Every man's under suspicion till this mess is settled. Has anybody left here since the shootin'?"

"No. No one's left. A dozen men swore to it. 'Not a soul has left.'"

Stone laid his own gun on the bar and stared at Dustin who followed suit. Every man in the room trooped up to the bar and laid his gun on it to be carefully examined by Garvey.

"Some one in this outfit's got a Derringer cached," he said curiously. "No sense wastin' time over a lot o' forty-fives when I know it was a forty-one hit him. 'You first, Dustin...'"

Dustin raised both hands and grinned as his questioner felt every inch of his person. Then he stepped aside and man after man was subjected to the closest examination.

Each, as Garvey nodded, stepped back grinning.

"Nothing done," he said sharply. "You can all of you go."

One by one they departed and Garvey examined every window in the room but all were closed. No pistol could have been thrown out after it had been fired.

"Darned if I kin figger it out," muttered Garvey. "There's nobody left but the Hour-Glass men. It's sure they never shot one of their own crowd. However..."

I got to search all you," he said suddenly. "You first, Stone..."

Carr, still a little dazed by the liquor he had drunk and by the rapidly occurring events, stood staring at them as, first Stone and then Crewe, stepped up to Garvey and were examined.

"... You now, Joe..." (To Be Continued)

Registrations Are Up

An increase in registrations, transfers, memberships and receipts for the first two months of the year is the cheerful report just released from the head offices of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

The number of animals registered was 4,465 and the number of transfers issued 2,729. Compared with the same period of 1934 this represents a gain of twenty per cent. in registrations and forty per cent. in transfers.

In the past ten years almost a million people in the United States—944,174, to be exact—have lost their lives from accidents.

Mexico leads all Latin-American countries in the area of vast land estates.

Remarkable Find

Ancient Seal Found in Palestine May Throw New Light On Biblical History

One of the most dramatic episodes in Biblical history was believed to have been thrown open for new study as the result of the recent discovery at ancient Lachish of a seal from the reign of Gedaliah, last of the kings of Judah, who was murdered by a pretender to the throne, it was revealed to the Paltor Agency by a member of the archaeological expedition.

Characterized by members of the expedition as one of the most remarkable finds of its nature, the ancient seal has been inscribed upon it in Hebrew:

"To Gedaliah, who rules the house." It is presumed the seal belonged to Gedaliah Ben Ahikam who ruled the remnant of the Kingdom of Judah after Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, destroyed Jerusalem.

One of the revengeful pretenders to the throne caused the assassination of Gedaliah, which is described in Second Kings, chapter 25, verse 25.

Bequest Has Reservation

Housekeeper Receives Fortune On Condition She Never Marries

If Miss Hetty M. Raynham remains single and lives in the dwelling at Tarsant, England, where she has kept house for years, she will receive $500,000. When she learned of the condition in the will of the late Henry W. Prosser, by whom she had been employed as housekeeper for many years, Miss Raynham told a friend of hers she was single for so many years that I don't think I shall worry about getting married now."

A friend of Miss Raynham reports that Miss Raynham intends to remain at the Prosser house. "She is known in the village as Miss Adams, and had been Prosser's companion for many years. She devoted her life to him and nursed him through the illness just before his death. She is aged about 50, and is extremely popular in the village." Prosser was an engineer.

Makes Generous Offer

Saskatchewan Postmaster Will Aid Jubilee Cancer Fund

The King George V. silver jubilee cancer fund management has received from a Saskatchewan village postmaster an offer to donate to the fund all the profits from his private business between now and the end of the campaign, May 6.

The postmaster wrote he operated a newspaper agency in addition to his post office and was prepared to surrender all profits from that business.

The management noted in a press communique that contributions from individual clergymen "constitute the largest number from any one group."

The new general manager was inspecting the branch office. "How long have you been working here?" he asked the office boy.

"Ever since the day the boss threatened to sack me," replied the young man.

A scientist believes that the next war will be fought by wireless. Sometimes the static you hear on your radio makes you think it has started.

A total of 5,899 cattle and 18 calves were exported from Canada to the United States from February 7 to 21, 1935.

Little Helps For This Week

The Lord heareth your murmurings which ye murmur against Him. Exodus 16:8.

Without murmur, uncomplaining. In His hand. Leave whatever things thou canst. Not understand.

One great characteristic of holiness is never to be exacting—never to complain. Each complaint drags us down a degree in our upward course. If you would discern in whom the spirit of God dwells, watch that person, and notice whether you ever hear him complain.

When we wish things to be otherwise than they are we lose sight of the great practical parts of the life of godliness. We wish and wish when, if we had done all that lies on us, we should feel quietly into the hands of God. Such wishing cuts the very sinew of our privileges and consolations. You are leaving me for a time; and you say you wish you could leave me better, or leave me with some assistance; but if it is right for you to go it is right for me to meet what lies before me without a wish that I had less to meet, or were better able to meet it.

Times Work By Candles

When Two Burn Out English Flint-Knapper Goes Home

There is one man in England who still times his day by candles.

He is George Ashley, who burrows deep in the earth at Brandon in Suffolk, searching for the flints which his mate Herbert Field chips to fit the old flintknappers' guns still used in primitive places. They are two of the last flintknappers, and old Mr. Ashley is surely the only man in England who prefers a candle to a watch as a timekeeper.

Though he is seventy-one he still makes his way each morning down a shaft fifty feet deep, looking for flints as old Stone Age men in pits close by when they wanted to replace their arrowheads and axes. Besides his lunch he takes with him two candles, and when these are burned through he climbs up out of the pit and goes home. "I tell him when his day's work is done."

Housing Plan

Housing Scheme in Winnipeg Most Successful

The 1920 housing scheme had been "most successful" in Winnipeg, Alexander Officer, chief inspector of the division of sanitation and housing, told the parliamentary committee on housing at Ottawa.

The house had been built at an average cost of $4,000 for "white-collar men," who liquidated their obligation in the form of rent over a period of years, he said. The city housing commission had met all its obligations and continued to have money in hand.

Mr. Officer emphasized his own particular concern was public health. In Winnipeg, out of 46,810 houses, there were only 247 without sewer and water connections. He doubted if there was another city in Canada with the same record.

Say It In Greek

A great Greek scholar, when visiting a woman's college in the United States, was asked whether he would do the institution the compliment of translating their college motto into Greek. He most courteously agreed and he asked what the motto was. It was placed before him and he read the words: "Pep without purpose is piffle."

THE PREMIER IS ILL

Just so long as the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Premier of Canada, enjoyed vigorous health he gave boundless energy to the enormous task involved in his high office. Even the bitterest political enemies are grudgingly admitting that Mr. Bennett was a tireless worker.

Now the Premier is in poor health. The strain on his strength has been too great. An over-worked heart has shown signs of weakness. The blazing energy of a tireless worker has been too much for the physical body.

The entire country has been sharply brought up by the Premier's condition. Even political enemies are expressing chastened regrets over Mr. Bennett's health. The people of this country have been given an intimation of the terrific strain imposed upon the leader of the government.

Just why Hon. Mr. Bennett should give himself so devotedly to his native country as its leader is difficult for some people to understand. It is generally known that he is a wealthy man. His age is around sixty-five, at which time of life most people with money seek relaxation and travel. Instead of a life of ease, he has been working lavishly in the service of his country, a target for contumely of the lowest nature.

Small minds have envisaged the man holding the position to further increase his wealth. No more dastardly lie was ever uttered. Instead of increasing his wealth, Mr. Bennett is a great deal poorer man than when he took up the leadership of the Canadian government.

Well may all Canadians feel alarmed at the Premier's illness. It is to Canada's interest that he be soon restored to health again.—Hanna Herald.

AN ARCHBISHOP WELCOMED

Archbishop McGuigan, entering upon his duties as head of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Toronto, received a most cordial reception from his people. Comparatively young, and promoted with startling rapidity, the new Archbishop has, nevertheless, a wide and varied experience as an administrator. He achieved marked success in Saskatchewan, and during hard times in the West proved himself the friend of the needy. He is spoken of as a man of kindly disposition and of marked ability as a speaker. His address before an audience which crowded the Maple Leaf Gardens included these words, which have found general acceptance with all citizens: "If I come to Toronto as Archbishop of my Catholic people, solicitous for their spiritual interests and anxious for their advancement in the paths of righteousness, I come as well to take my place among the public body of its inhabitants, as a citizen, eager to advance and help the highest interests of my city, my province, my country."—The New Outlook.

G. G. COOTE ON INSURANCE

A private bill to amend the Insurance Act was recently brought in at Ottawa by G. G. Coote, M.P., member for this constituency.

Mr. Coote seeks to have restored a clause dropped when the act was revised two years ago, making it compulsory for a life insurance company, when premiums are not paid, to carry the policy until the cash surrender value is exhausted. It was pointed out that the value of policies surrendered and dropped during a three-year period amounted in Alberta alone to $99,000,000. Further, he asked that the rate of interest on any advance or loan on a policy be limited to four per cent. Figures were given to show that the amount of such loans had increased from $159,000,000 in 1929 to $224,000,000 in 1932, the latest period for which Mr. Coote had obtained data.

Mr. Coote said further that he had found the interest rate on these loans as high as eight per cent in some cases, with the lowest at six per cent. The companies have nearly twenty-five per cent of their money invested in these absolutely safe loans, and the next best loans would be the Dominion government bonds on which he earnings would be below four per cent. The minister of finance contended that the clause referred to had been dropped because there was doubt about it coming within the jurisdiction of the federal government, while he considered the interest rate on loans a technical matter to be discussed with the companies.

Mr. Coote submitted a further bill designed to limit interest rates on any agreement to seven per cent, and on real estate mortgages to four per cent.

Down in Calgary a firm advertises thus: "Slightly-soiled sheets, suitable for rooming-houses." Now is this nice? To what level have the rooming-houses of Calgary sunk that they should be accused publicly of using slightly soiled sheets for the patrons? The art of keeping a rooming-house is an ancient and an honorable one; it is surrounded by difficulties, there is great competition. There is only one explanation—there must be an explanation—and that is that in the opinion of the advertising firm there is an advantage in having sheets that are only slightly soiled. Things can always be worse.—Ex.

AN OLD FARMER'S PLEA FOR SOCIAL CREDIT

Praise be for William Aberhart, and Major Douglas, too. For a life of once dark and drear are now a rosy hue; And underneath the kindly light, again we face the day.

No longer shackled by the chains of terror and dismay. Creation writhes in anguish deep—"want" stalks thro' every land While God's sweet gifts to mankind lay wasting on either hand. No more the wheels of commerce turn as in the days of yore, And shouts of discord, hate and strife resound from shore to shore.

Not by the will of Him above came we to view the day When all the simple joys of life were being swept away: 'Twas thro' man's cruel, selfish ways this earth became a shell, And man must plan and build anew ere joy with him can dwell. Let party slaves uphold the creeds that feed the bitter morn And let a million kindly folk so hapless and forlorn. But all who love the Golden Rule will rise with strength and might To banish all the evil things that mock at truth and right.

No easy trail shall lead us on unto our heart's desire, And we must ever bravely face men's ridicule and ire. But faith and hope will be our guides until the goal is won, And poverty's grim form no more shall greet the morning sun.

So march behind the banner, lads. Heads up! and on with zest: To spread the tidings thro' the land—North, East, South and West; Oh, help the cause with tongue and pen in every way you can, For Social Credit stands revealed—"The Brotherhood of Man!"—Tim Longbottom.

THE PARLIAMENTARY SHOW

(By J. S. Cowper)

A declaration that the Liberal Party is not opposed to Social Credit but is prepared to test any plan—social credit included—that may prove practical to unshackle the province from bondage to the juggernaut of interest, was made by Liberal leader W. R. Howson, K.C., last Thursday night, when accorded an acclamation nomination in the Masonic Temple at Edmonton. It evoked a scene of great enthusiasm on the part of the 1200 Liberal delegates who filled the hall.

The declaration, which is regarded as the official attitude Liberalism will adopt towards Social Credit in the ensuing provincial elections, came when the Liberal leader defended Mayor "Gerry" McGeer from sneers which members of the Reid government had directed against the Vancouver money reformer. Ridiculing members of the government for shedding crocodile tears over the plight of widows and orphans whose allowances will be reduced, while refusing to reduce interest rates or even to reduce their own salaries, Mr. Howson styled the Vancouver mayor and Liberal member "the Crusader who will lead Canada out of its difficulties." It is understood that Mayor McGeer will speak on behalf of the Alberta Liberals at principal points in the province during the coming elections.

Only a couple of days before, when the conference of the Canadian mayors was making demands on the Ottawa government that it relieve all the municipalities of Canada from their obligations and assume them out of the federal treasury, and while Mayor McGeer was telling a parliamentary committee that if Vancouver is forced to go into a receivership to the bondholders he would personally lead a mob and run any sheriff who appeared into Vancouver harbour. Mr. Howson sought to have the legislature pass a motion supporting the efforts of Mayor McGeer and his colleagues, to have the federal government assume responsibilities for relief now dumped upon the municipalities.

The motion came up as an emergency one. There was no time to give the customary 48 hours notice to have it placed on the order paper. Mr. Howson accordingly moved the legislature to bring before it "a matter of urgency." He unfolded the plight of the Canadian mayors, then before the Ottawa government, and urged the need for the Alberta legislature to place itself on record as being behind the mayors in their attempt to have relief responsibility placed where it belongs—on the shoulders of the Ottawa government.

There is no doubt that the motion would have passed had the members been free to vote as they wished, but Premier Reid refused to consider the fight of the Canadian mayors at Ottawa next day as a matter of "of urgency." He had the speaker so rule. When a vote was taken, the U.F.A. members—many of them no doubt with anger in their hearts—had to line up behind the premier and vote as he indicated. Long before the motion could have been placed on the order paper, and the matter brought up in the ordinary way, the Ottawa meeting was over.

However a telegram was sent that afternoon to Sir George Perley, acting-premier, signed by the leaders of the Liberal, Conservative and Independent parties in the legislature, stating that they strongly supported the efforts of the mayors' conference to relieve municipalities from the cost of unemployment relief.

A personal issue between the government and Mr. Omer St. Germain, member for St. Albert, who crossed the floor at last session to join the Liberals, came up again. Mr. St. Germain had previously asserted that his son, a University of Alberta graduate, had been dismissed from the lands and mines department after three years service, as a punishment because the father had exercised his political freedom. The accusation had been denied.

On a resumption of the charge last week, Mr. St. Germain disclosed that before he crossed the floor an emissary of Premier Brownlee had waited on him at his home in Morinville, offering to give his son promotion and an increase of salary if the father would stay as a government supporter.

"It seems strange," said the St. Albert member, "that on February 4th, 5th and 6th my son was so satisfactory that he was offered a higher position and more salary, yet on February 7th, the day after I crossed the floor, he was fit only for dismissal."

Mr. Brownlee denied that he had authorized an emissary to visit Mr. St. Germain and bargain with him to stay in the party.

Liberals made a final effort to pare down the budget. On the motion of Joe Dechene, member for St. Paul, they moved to withhold supply until the government furnishes details of the $33,033 spent on new autos for ministers and officials. The U.F.A. members defeated the move.

A similar fate befell the efforts of L. A. Giroux, Liberal member for Grouard, to strike out the vote of $15,117 for the upkeep of government house. But the government had one narrow escape when Liberals, Conservatives, Independents and Labor united to try to have the budget sent back for revision. The government saved the day for itself, and for expenditure on the scale it had planned, by a bare majority of one vote. It was the closest division the government had had in its history.

The government, no doubt, is prepared for defeat whenever it goes to the electors; that it should come within one vote of being defeated in the house was something it wasn't prepared for. The vote nearly took the breath away from the ministers. Had the budget been sent back, they would almost certainly have had to reduce their own salaries, as they had already reduced mothers' pensions, old age pensions, municipal grants, hospital grants and relief appropriations, and had been criticized for not reducing their own salaries.

FACTS ABOUT JUBILEE

CANCER FUND FOR CANADA

Inaugurated by His Excellency the Governor General as a National Fund to combat the evil of cancer and to commemorate the 25th anniversary of His Majesty's accession to the throne May 6th, 1910.

The object of the fund is to give assistance anywhere in Canada to organized action to combat the evil of cancer, which is at present the cause of more deaths and more suffering than any other disease. The fund is for Canadian research and action and all the proceeds will be spent in the Dominion.

The trustees of the fund will confine their functions to receiving applications for grants to aid against cancer from official or voluntary bodies. The trustees will adjudicate upon the worthiness of the type of work planned, for which the grant is requested, and, if the approval is secured, will authorize the payment of an amount to the applicants. The trustees will not set up any personnel or staff to carry out any activities whatsoever.

Every dollar given to the cancer fund will be spent on cancer control in Canada; no costs in connection with the inauguration of the fund will be charged against the contributions made to it.

Any individual or any family subscribing one dollar or upwards to the fund will receive from Lady Bessborough a personal acknowledgment on a card bearing the portraits of Their Majesties, the King and Queen.

All letters, containing subscriptions to the fund, should be addressed to Lady Bessborough, Ottawa, and envelopes should be marked "Cancer Fund." Cheques should be made payable to Lady Bessborough; in every case the name and address of the donor should be carefully stated.

The inauguration of a cancer fund for Canada, in accordance with the wish to His Majesty, will serve the double purpose of—"perpetuating Canada's participation in a whole Empire's gratitude and of bringing hope to thousands of Canadians who sit in the very shadow of death."

The ominous increase in the number of deaths in Canada each year from this great scourge emphasizes the necessity of providing medical science with all the facilities possible to fight it. Part of the battle against the mysterious disease has been won. It is now possible to effect cures in the early stages. It is the ultimate hope of the medical world to isolate the germ and thus duplicate the success which attended the long campaign to reduce the terrors of tuberculosis.

A Welcome Declaration Of War

The people of Canada, under the leadership of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough, supported by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, all political parties, the churches, the press, the medical profession, organizations of every description, and men and women of goodwill throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, have decided to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of King George V. to the throne of the world's greatest empire on May 6 by a declaration of war.

Canadians are a peace loving people; they abhor war, and their whole history proves that they never engage in war except when absolutely forced to it in self-defence, but, once in, they fight to the finish with all the strength, energy and resources they can command. Fighting in their own defence they never remain on the defensive but adopt vigorous offensive tactics to bring about the defeat of the common enemy and safeguard their own existence. History proves this to be true.

So, with the lives of thousands of their people at stake, and their whole history proving that they never engage in war except when absolutely forced to it in self-defence, but, once in, they fight to the finish with all the strength, energy and resources they can command. Fighting in their own defence they never remain on the defensive but adopt vigorous offensive tactics to bring about the defeat of the common enemy and safeguard their own existence. ## Building Traffic Subways

Paris Found First One To Be Huge
Because of the success of the first traffic subway, Paris is pushing the construction of additional ones. These passages are designed to insure the continuity of the circular road built in place of the former fortifications surrounding Paris. This road, complete, will be nearly 20 miles long, 133 feet wide, and will permit the passage of six rows of cars. Side-walks on each side of the road are over three feet wide. Where this circular route meets the main arteries leading out of Paris it has been attempted, wherever possible, to direct traffic around a central plateau which serves as an axis. This eliminates to a certain extent the danger resulting from the crossing of cars from various directions and helps to reduce traffic tie-ups.

Arcades For London Streets

Expert Predicts City's Shopping Centres Will Be Covered
Women will soon be able to do all their window-gazing under cover in London, according to a merchandising expert, who says that the shopping centres will be a series of arcades. Mannequins will emerge from the shelter of the stores, where they already are continuously on display, and appear in windows in place of the present wax figures, which have gone from the realistic to the fantastic and back again.

WAS CONSTIPATED FOR 30 YEARS

Woman's Long Search For a Remedy

The trouble with most remedies for constipation, as this woman found, is that they give only temporary relief. Having at last found a permanent corrective, she writes to tell us about it:
"For upwards of 30 years I was a victim of acute constipation. I tried practically everything that it was possible to try. I admit I was a slave to my first duty until I was relieved for a day or two after that I was just as bad as ever. Three months ago I took my first taste of Kruschen Salts, and every morning since, and every morning so long as I live, my first duty upon rising is my Kruschen. I honestly feel a different woman. My bowels act to the clock, and my friends remark how well I am looking. My only regret is that I didn't try Kruschen years ago."
(Mrs. A. M. Kruschen Salts is Nature's recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your system is thus kept clear of those impurities which, allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.)

Installs New Equipment

Montreal Institute One Of Leading Cancer Care Hospitals

The Radium Institute of Montreal became one of the leading cancer treatment hospitals in the world with installation of apparatus generating 500,000 volts. The institute hopes to raise the voltage mark to 1,200,000 in the near future, says Dr. J. E. Gendreau, director, announced.

"Ultra penetrating X-rays at a voltage of 500,000 were put in operation only after extremely careful physical measurements preparatory to cancer treatments, and the apparatus has been used for the first time on patients," Dr. Gendreau said. "This apparatus is the largest and most powerful in Canada and is surpassed by but a few in the United States or Europe," he said. He stressed the necessity of adequate institutes in different countries to fight cancer with great success.

English Towns Thrifty

The changing times have not changed the Yorkshireman's thrift. When the people of Eilat Winton in North Yorkshire met to arrange their jubilee celebrations they found the village still had a balance left over from the coronation of their Majesties 25 years ago. So East Winton will use it to celebrate their jubilee.

Best She Could Do

A rather stout woman was making herself a nuisance in the big shop which was holding its annual sale. Nothing, it seemed, would suit her, and the unfortunate shop-assistant was beginning to get a little weary. "Haven't you anything ready-made that will fit me?" asked the customer at last. "Yes; the umbrellas and the handkerchiefs are downstairs, madam," the girl replied.

There's A Reason

Interesting Explanation Of Place Names For Points On Vancouver Island

(By Frank Glohna)
Place names are not like Topsy, they didn't just grow, nor are they picked blindly out of a hat. There is a reason for each and a story attached. In fact, place names are the bricks of which histories are built. Consider, for example, Vancouver Island, where quite possibly you will be spending your holidays this summer. Put a map of the island before you and look at the names, Victoria, Sooke, Alberni, Duncan, Courtenay, Qualicum, Cameron Lake, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Comox, Campbell River, Mt. Arrowsmith, Victoria Peak, Shawnigan Lake, Parksville, Cumberland. Just a cursory glance at such shows you that Indians, Englishmen, Scotsmen and Spaniards have at some time or other formed and lived in cities, villages, settlements or communities sufficiently important to have special names, these names being given by or on account of their inhabitants. But they tell us more than that; each place having its own local history to which its name is generally the key, and of which it is also in many cases descriptive. Take the Indian word "Esquimalt," the name of the municipality adjoining Victoria on the west. It means shallow, shelly beach; obviously just the kind of landing place the Indians coming in their dugout canoes would be looking for. So you see we know from the name of Esquimalt that an Indian harbour before the British navy used it as a naval base. On the other hand, the name Victoria has nothing whatever to do with the aborigines or Spaniards, being straight English. The city was founded as a fort by the Hudson's Bay Company, being first called Fort Albert after Queen Victoria's royal assent, and then, in 1862, when almost immediately changed to Victoria, in honour of the great queen who, in 1858, on the occasion of the erection of the Hudson's Bay fort the Indians knew the present site of Victoria as Camoum or Camorak. So, the name of the peninsula on which Victoria is built, denotes the land of an Indian tribe of that name, while the name Malahat, which should be Malakut, means plenty bait, referring to the waters at the foot of the famous Mountain Drive. And just to the west of the Malahat Mountains lie Sooke and Shawnigan Lakes, Sooke being the name of an Indian tribe, and Shawnigan commemorating a great battle between two tribes, a battle fought at the foot of the mountain. Moving north we come to the Cowichan of the Cowichan, a powerful and warlike Cowichan tribe, incidentally one of the few tribes to take kindly to the white man's civilization. In the heart of the valley is the thriving country city of Duncan, named after its Scottish founder, and the name of the most English city on Vancouver Island, let alone in Canada generally. A very fine country town, Duncan, is the heart of a rich valley. These Scotch pioneers always chose well.

On the edge of the Cowichan Valley is the coal town of Ladysmith. Write it in two separate words, and you will find your curiosity immediately becomes aroused. A titled lady, yes, but a title tacked on to a very, perhaps one might say one of the most, plebeian names known. Who was this lady, the only person to have a title perpetuated in a place name on Vancouver Island? Possibly you will imagine she was some local celebrity who won rank and fame. The actual facts are quite different. When arrangements were being made in 1862 to open up the coal mines and found a city where Ladysmith now stands, the South African War was being fought, and the eyes of the world were turned to the Boers. On March 1st, 1860, the town was relieved by Colonel Lord Dundonald. The name was chosen in honour of the new townsite on Vancouver Island named their property Ladysmith in honor of the event. So far so good. You now know that the whiff of history has caused two towns to be named after Lady Smith, but you still do not know who the lady was. Well, she was the wife of Major General Sir Harry Smith, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in Cape Colony, South Africa. It was as his wife that the town of Ladysmith in South Africa was named after her. She was a Spaniard, and I often think how laughable some may have turned up their noses when they heard she was marrying a Smith, for her maiden name was Juana Maria de la Dolores de Leon, and she was a lineal descendant of Ponce de Leon, famous in history as the Knight of Romance and searcher after the Elixir of Youth.

Pedigree Certificates

The total number of pedigree certificates registered by the Canadian National Livestock Records, approved by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, for the month of February 1935 was 6,918, as against 4,689 for February 1934. Horses numbered 228; cattle, 2,111; sheep, 481; swine, 450; dogs, 529; foxes, 2,926; poultry 190, and one goat.

The catcombs of Rome contain a total of 6,000,000 tombs. In places they are seven levels deep and cover a distance of 500 miles in area.

"Growing" A Sea Wall

Rice Grass Effective In Preventing Flooding Of Land

The cultivation of the grass on the low-lying lands of Essex and other similar mud flats in England may result in turning thousands of acres of waste land into profitable pasture. Spartina grass became known in Great Britain about 100 years ago through a few seeds dropping accidentally from some cargo ship at Southampton Docks. They took root and formed a hybrid with British grass which attracted the attention of agricultural scientists who saw the possibility of "growing" their sea wall instead of spending thousands of pounds on sea defence to prevent the land being flooded. Experiments have proved that such a wall is not worn away by the tide, and now Holland and Australia are planting rice grass with a view to converting large tracts of marshes into pasture.

Findings In Palestine Date Back To 700 B.C.

The correspondence between two kings dating back to the time of Jeremiah, 700 B.C., has been discovered by the archaeological expedition led by Prof. J. L. Starkey, of Great Britain, it was learned. The discovery was made at Tel Ad-Dumweir, ancient city of Lachish. It consists of 12 Ostraka fragments, which are taken to be an exchange of secret letters between the kingdom of Judea and the kingdom of Babylon or Egypt.

Details of the findings were made known to the Palestine government, but were not given out to the press.

Bonus Paid On Coal

Canada Has Paid Out Over Six Million Dollars Since 1928

Since 1928 Canada has paid $6,781,176 in subsidies and other forms of assistance to aid the coal industry in the Maritime provinces and Alberta, a return-tabled in the House of Commons said. Of that amount $4,487,992 went to the Maritimes and $1,859,958 to Alberta.

Payments made generally by the trade and commerce department to assist in placing Canadian coal used in the manufacture of iron or steel on a basis of equality with imported coal amounted to $466,373, while "additional payments" made under the Domestic Fuel Act to the Maritime coal industry totalled $87,953.

From 1931 to the present the amount of bonus paid on wheat was $12,705,876. The outlay in the year 1931-32 when the five-cents-a-bushel bonus was in effect was $10,905,428.

Schoolmaster In England Has Collection Of Unusual Horseshoes

A schoolmaster at Wimbledon is an ardent collector of horseshoes. But not ordinary horseshoes. He specializes in ancient horseshoes. The walls of one of his rooms are covered with scores of them. They even overflow to other rooms. One of his horseshoes was discovered on the site of a Roman camp. In all probability it was cast from the foot of a charger ridden by a Roman general.

School Named After Prince

The institution in British Columbia will be known as the "Prince of Wales Fairbridge Farm School."

LEADER OF C. C. F. SUGGESTS A SHARE WEALTH PROGRAM

Ottawa.—A share-the-wealth program was launched in the House of Commons by James S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, when he continued the budget debate.

Conscription of high incomes and implements of production was urged by the third-party leader. He criticized the income surtax announced in the budget as a delusion and could see no reason why an income of $200,000 should not be cut to $40,000 or $50,000 by state taxes. The surtax would cut it to $180,000, apart from other taxes.

"We have reached the point," Mr. Woodsworth declared, "when we shall have to regard the great resources and equipment of this country as essentially the property of the Canadian people to be administered for the needs of the masses."

Eleven thousand Canadians, each with an income of $10,000 or over, receive more each year than 400,000 of the poorest paid workers of this country as essentially the property of the C.C.F. leader declared. Eighty per cent. of the people were paid $1,500 a year or less and the remaining 20 per cent. earned almost half the total income of the country.

Two other speakers took the floor, J. A. Fraser (Cons. Cariboo) and Dr. F. W. Gershaw (Lib., Medicine Hat). With the exception of Hon. J. L. Ralston, the financial critic, Dr. Gershaw was the first Liberal to speak.

Scouts Plan Beacon Chain

Lord Baden-Powell Will Light One At Winnipeg

Ottawa.—Plans for the celebration of the King's Silver Jubilee, May 6, by a chain of Boy Scout beacons across Canada, with Lord Baden-Powell lighting the "mid-Canada" beacon at Winnipeg, to pass the fire from east to west, were announced at Dominion headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association.

The first beacon will be lighted at dusk on the shores of the Atlantic by one of the easternmost Scout units in Cape Breton Island and as twilight rolls westward beacons will flare up at scouting centres across the maritimes, Quebec and Ontario, to Manitoba.

At Winnipeg, Lord Baden-Powell, world chief Scout, on his way east on a tour of the Dominion, will participate in the ceremony of lighting a beacon which has been designated the mid-Canada beacon. Lighting of this beacon will pass on the bonfire celebration of Scouts of eastern Canada to those of the west, across the prairies and British Columbia, to conclude with a final flare on a headland overlooking the Pacific.

In addition to the beacon, wherever possible, a royal salute of 21 rockets will be fired.

Officers For Bisley Team

Appointments Have Been Announced By Rifle Association

Ottawa.—Brigadier W. B. Anderson, officer commanding military district No. 3 at Kingston, Ont., and Major J. T. Dempster, Queen's Own Rifles (reserve), Toronto, have been appointed officer commanding and adjutant, respectively, of the 1935 Canadian Bisley team, the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association announced here.

Brig. Anderson was an officer of the old 43rd Regiment and has since had experience in several military districts in Canada including Winnipeg, district 10.

The Canadian Bisley team will sail for England, June 14, and return July 24.

Duke Of Gloucester Home

London.—After many months abroad the Duke of Gloucester has returned to England and received an enthusiastic welcome. The Prince of Wales and Duke of York went to Portsmouth to greet their younger brother, who has spent the last seven months on a tour that covered Australia, New Zealand and the British West Indies.

Gets New Appointment

Winnipeg.—Dr. K. W. Neatby, cereal specialist of the Dominion rust research laboratory here, has been appointed professor of field crops at the University of Alberta, Edmonton. Dr. Neatby will succeed Dr. Aamodt, leaving to take a post with the University of Wisconsin. He will leave here May 1.

Increase In Employment

Statistics Show Gain In Above Average For March

Ottawa.—The Dominion bureau of statistics reported an increase in employment in Canada at March 1 of 16,340 persons compared with Feb. 1. The figures were 902,301 persons employed March 1 and 885,961 Feb. 1. The report was based on returns from 9,062 leading employers.

The bureau said the gain was above the average for March and higher than that recorded for any preceding March except in 1922. "In consequence of this more-than-average gain," the report continued, "there was an increase in the seasonally corrected index that raised it to a higher level than in any other month since the late summer of 1931."

It said the greatest gains at the beginning of March occurred in manufacturing in which 12,903 additional persons were employed.

"Increase in textiles and iron and steel were most noteworthy," the report said, "those in the former being the largest recorded on March 1 in any of the years for which statistics have been compiled, while gain in iron and steel considerably exceeded the average."

It noted also increase in employment in metallic-ore mining, wholesale trade, shipping and stevedoring and highway and railway construction. It said, however, that the gain of almost 8,200 persons in the highway group was due partly to an increase in the numbers at unemployment relief camps and snow clearance.

Trans-Canada Highway Not Yet Completed

Unfinished Sections Are In Ontario And British Columbia

Ottawa.—About 700 miles of the trans-Canada highway remain to be built, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons. The gaps in the route exist in Ontario and British Columbia.

The highway, says the return, is a series of roads which in the main link up provincial routes. In Ontario are two incomplete sections. One from Schreiber easterly to White River, approximately 125 miles. This is all new work and is estimated to cost $35,000 a mile. From White River easterly to North Bay alternate routes have been suggested. On one, from Schreiber to North Bay the province estimates a total cost of $10,000,000. Surveys on the other have not yet been completed, and the approximate mileage and cost have not been ascertained.

In British Columbia a gap exists between the junction of the Canoe and Columbia rivers and Goldstream, for 35 miles, and from the Canoe river southward 16 miles. The average cost per mile of this portion is estimated at $24,000 by contract, while the cost of bridging the Canoe river is given as $45,000.

Short sections of the road have been built from Revelstoke to Goldstream, a distance of 40 miles. It is estimated approximately $18,000 a mile would be required to complete it over the whole length.

Demand Overtaking Supply

North America May Have Shortage Of Oil And Gasoline

Victoria.—Shortage of oil and gasoline in North America because the rate of consumption is overtaking the supply was presaged by Counsel C. H. O'Halloran, when Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald's commission investigating the fuel industry in British Columbia resumed sittings here.

Mr. O'Halloran read authoritative figures from trade journals which placed the proven coal reserves of United States at 3,500,000,000 tons, equivalent to 4,800 years' supply at the present rate of production. The natural gas supply was placed at enough for 20 years, while the proven petroleum reserves were reported down to 15,000,000,000 barrels, representing 14 years' supply on the present consumption basis.

"It is entirely conceivable that in a few years oil will be exhausted," Mr. O'Halloran said.

"We will get gasoline from coal then," said Mr. Justice Macdonald. "That has been discussed. The research council at Ottawa has been doing work on this."

Workers Are Warned

Bill Given Royal Assent

Dionne Babies Are Now Special Wards Of King

Toronto.—Royal assent was given to the Ontario legislature by Lieut. Governor Herbert A. Bruce to the bill which makes the Dionne quintuplets "special wards of His Majesty the King" until they reach the age of 18.

Minister of Welfare David A. Croil is made special guardian of the babies and the bill gives him power to appoint active guardians. These, he has announced, will be Olivia Dionne, father of the famous girls, and Dr. A. A. Dufour, their physician. Control of the babies' person and estate is vested in the minister, and he must approve all contracts regarding the babies. Contracts previously not approved are rendered null and void.

JOHN BUCHAN IS TO BE CANADA'S NEXT GOVERNOR

London.—"I am extremely proud to have been chosen as His Majesty's representative in Canada, and not less proud to be given a chance of serving Canada," said John Buchan, Canada's next governor-general, in his first statement on his appointment.

Mr. Buchan pointed out he had known Canada for many years and said he was looking forward to increasing his Canadian friendships.

Lord Beasborough, the present governor-general, is due to retire shortly. Mr. Buchan has been a Conservative member of parliament for the Scottish universities since 1927. He has already had experience as His Majesty's representative, having been high commissioner of the Church of Scotland assembly in 1933 and 1934, his successor in this office for this year being the Duke of Kent, His Majesty's youngest son.

He will be the first "commoner" governor-general, every occupant of the position since 1867 having been a member of the peerage. This is subject of course to the possibility that Buchan may be elevated to the peerage in the king's birthday honors.

Gripping stories of adventure, scholarly biographies, dramatic recreations of the past, have all come under his facile pen. His recent work on Oliver Cromwell was a masterly survey of the tense days of the commonwealth.

He was made a companion of honor in 1932.

John Buchan was born August 29, 1875, eldest son of Rev. John Buchan and his wife, Helen, daughter of John Maister, of Broughton Green, Peeblesshire. In 1907 he married Susan Charlotte, daughter of the late Norman Grosvenor and they have three sons and one daughter.

The exact date of the Beasborough's departure for England has not been learned. It is believed to depend on the progress of the House of Commons toward prorogation and dissolution of parliament. Governors-General for Canada are named by the British government acting on recommendation of the Canadian government.

Jobless Riot In Toronto

Discontent With Relief Allowances Said To Be Cause

Toronto.—Led by a stubby, grey-haired woman wearing an old felt hat, 500 York township unemployed raided the municipal relief offices here, shattered windows and engaged in a stone and bottle-tossing riot with police.

The demonstration, which lasted for nearly an hour before the mob was dispersed, grew out of discontent of the jobless with relief allowances.

Six policemen were injured by flying bricks, glass and fists and feet of the rioters. None was seriously enough hurt to retire from duty.

Thirteen were arrested and held without bail. Authorities stated they would be charged with obstructing police in the performance of their duties, or assaulting police, or inciting to riot.

New Members Appointed

Will Hold Office On Pension Board For Two Years

Ottawa.—The government has appointed four new members of the Canadian pension commission, according to an announcement by Minister of Pension Donald M. Sutherland. The appointees are: Dr. Frederick C. Bell, Vancouver; Charles D. Crowe, Quebec; Antoine Chasse of Ottawa and Dr. Seymour G. MacKenzie, Halifax.

The new commissioners will hold office for two years as from April 1. Their salary will be the same as those of the other members of the pension board, $6,000 per annum.

Canada's Net Debt

Ottawa.—The net debt of Canada stands at $2,847,678,000, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons. This is an increase of more than $500,000,000 over 1928, when the net debt of the country was $2,296,850,232.

EUROPE WAITS THEIR DECISION

Training Farm Purchased

Courses In Agriculture Will Be Given To War Veterans

Ottawa.—Purchase of a farm, complete with buildings and equipment on which Canadian ex-service men will be given short courses in agriculture, was announced by Col. W. C. H. Wood, Dominion president of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. The farm will be administered by the association, with the training carried out by experts of the Ontario agricultural department.

Col. Wood announced the training farm, comprising 115 acres and situated near Whitby, Ont., about 29 miles east of Toronto, was bought outright by the Army and Navy veterans. The association will provide the livestock and considerable attention will be given to training the men in truck gardening. Col. Wood emphasized this was an experiment and was a practical contribution towards a solution of the unemployment problems among ex-service men.

HITLER ASKING FOR RETURN OF LOST TERRITORY

London.—High London quarters declared that Reichsfuehrer Hitler demanded from Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, that the powers grant Germany the following concessions.

An economic union with Austria. The elimination of Pomorze—the "Polish corridor" which under the Treaty of Versailles gives Poland a seacoast.

The return of some Czechoslovakian territory with the repatriation of 3,500,000 Germans there.

Aviation strength equal to the air forces of Great Britain or France, the level to be governed by the air strength of Soviet Russia.

A navy of about 100,000 tons.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler was said to have told the British foreign secretary that he regards Germany's eastern frontier as elastic and subject to revision at any time and that one of his first aims is the reunion of East Prussia with the rest of Germany, eliminating Pomorze.

He was said, however, not to fear any other force so much as that of Russia and said that Germany may at some time have to exceed the size of the forces of Great Britain or France in order to resist Russia much more to its military air power.

Informed quarters interpreted the Berlin denouement as a demand by Hitler for the removal of practically all treaty restrictions. Sir John made it clear that the British view on all demands except the naval one, was unchanged.

Sir John was said to have reiterated Great Britain's firm support of the plan for an eastern European mutual assistance pact, but Hitler was adamant against such co-operative assistance.

The difficulties of the Moscow mission of Capt. Eden were regarded as considerably augmented by the inconclusive outcome of the Berlin conference.

The task now confronting the young diplomat, it was pointed out, is that of persuading the Soviet government to modify the principles it desires to see embodied in an eastern security pact and at the same time retain the substance of the projected agreement.

Such modification, it was believed, might go a long way toward meeting the objections of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, who was understood to have insisted he would involve Germany in no undertaking which might later enliven the reich in war.

Berlin.—A high authority stated that Reichsfuehrer Hitler demands absolute military equality on a gun-for-gun basis with other European powers. This authority said Hitler told Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, who returned to London, that Germany would be content with a "small percentage of the British navy."

The reichsfuehrer, the authority said, strongly indicated that "even though France were to reduce armaments greatly, Germany would not follow suit until it was certain what Russia would do."

It was said that at every turn Sir John found Hitler standing firmly on the foundation stone of the Nazi foreign policy "equality."

Germany's return to the league, Hitler was stated to have said, depended upon whether he judged Germany was being treated as a great nation should.

JAPAN KEEPING POSSESSIONS OF STRATEGIC VALUE

Tokio.—Japan gave up her membership in the League of Nations but made it clear she has not the slightest intention of slackening her grasp on either her mandated islands in the equatorial Pacific, which the league bestowed upon her, or on Manchuria, which the league tried to take away.

Her seizure of Manchuria caused the disagreement with the league which led to Japan's secession two years ago.

Her determination to retain possession of the Pacific mandates had led Japanese Nationalists to point to March 27, 1935, as a day of "crisis," when Japan might have to take her stand against league members or other states that might want to territorialize her possession on the ground she held them under the league's mandate and that her title should lapse with her departure from the league.

The highest Japanese authorities, including Premier Keisaku Okada and especially the admirals who strongly influenced imperial policy, have declared Japan's inflexible decision to keep the islands as permanent units of the Japanese empire.

These islands, belonging to Germany until the Great War, possess localities of strategic value in any struggle for naval mastery of the Pacific. The admirals, therefore, have declared them to be Japan's "life line" in the Pacific ocean.

Thus far, however, no other power has shown any intention of disputing Japan's title.

Road Scheme For Alberta

Construction Program Proposed By Minister Of Public Works

Edmonton.—A $10,000,000 main and secondary highway construction program, spread over a period of five years and dependent upon federal aid on a 50-50 basis for main roads, was proposed to the Alberta legislature by Hon. J. J. McCallan, minister of public works.

His pronouncement was made when the house was in committee of supply dealing with a capital vote of $1,000,000 for main highways construction in the next fiscal year, an increase of $500,000 over last year. This appropriation was approved, as also was a capital vote later of $500,000 for district highways, which was $300,000 more than last year.

Fifty miles of main highways adjacent to Edmonton and Calgary were ready for hard surfacing or paving this year, the minister announced. Queried later, he declined to give the definite locations but it is believed that the sections will be parts of the Calgary-Edmonton highway leading into these cities.

Mr. McCallan stated that work on the trans-Canada highway west of Strathmore and also west of Cochrane would be rushed as soon as weather conditions warrant. The work includes reconditioning and graveling.

"Stations" For Ocean Hops

Equipment Being Taken To Lonely Island In Pacific

San Francisco.—The steamer North Haven, bearing men and equipment to rear miniature cities on lonely islands destined to become way stations for trans-Pacific planes, sailed recently.

Everything from pre-fabricated buildings to buttons and safety pins made up the 6,000-ton cargo. These little cities will be the home of 118 men—no women—on aviation's newest frontier.

Midway Islands, one of the Hawaiian group 1,323 miles west of Honolulu, and Wake Island, 1,911 miles from Midway, were the destinations of the North Haven.

Report Denied In Berlin

Berlin.—The German foreign office has denied reports that Germany had offered a military air force and experts to Ethiopia. A spokesman said such an act might be interpreted as direct hostility to Italy, whereas Germany was maintaining strict neutrality.

Viscount Byng Recovering

Pasadena, Calif.—The condition of Viscount Byng, who was seriously ill here a few weeks ago following a heart attack, was described as remaining favorable. The former governor-general of Canada was described as "virtually recovered" and planning to leave for England shortly.

May we suggest, right here in the early spring, that another wonderful way to reduce the wheat surplus would be for the government to pass a law making it illegal to cut holes in doughnuts.

Ratepayers of the town of Blairmore will shortly be given an opportunity to vote on the municipal hospital question—as to whether or not $7,000 of their money should be invested in a hospital. It is proposed to purchase the former Lyon residence on Eighth Avenue, now the property of Joseph Montalbetti and at present occupied as a hospital by Dr. Stewart. It is estimated the total cost, including renovation and furnishing will require $7,000.

The town council of Redcliff will tomorrow vote on a by-law similar in all respects but one to that recently submitted to the proprietary electors of Blairmore, to provide for the "payment to the mayor and each councillor attending council meetings of $2.00 for each session attended by councillors, and $3.00 to the mayor for each time he presides at sessions and $3.00 for each day spent by the mayor in laying out and inspection of works undertaken by the town." But proviso is made to the effect that payment to the mayor or any councillor for attending meetings shall not exceed the sum of fifty dollars in any year, nor payments to the mayor for inspections, etc., shall exceed twenty-five dollars in any year. The real trouble with Blairmore's by-law was that no limit was stipulated.

Fred Perry, court stenographer of Fernie and at one time employed at Ottawa as a Hansard reporter, was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to one year's imprisonment at Nelson. The conviction of Perry will mean the appointment of a new court reporter for East Kootenay. Retention of $1100 was made by Perry.

The Lethbridge Herald remarks: The Coleman Journal has installed a new press, and thrown "Annie," the old one, that has done service many years, into the scrap heap. Editor Halliwell celebrates the occasion by dressing last week's issue up in red headlines, giving the Pass paper quite a metropolitan air. We only hope the red ink isn't in any way prophetic, and that the Journal continues to serve a live community for many years to come.
